Dear Julia,

I just wanted to say that I was very impressed by the high calibre of the teachers who I met at your school last week. During my conversations with them I sincerely felt their passion for their subjects, their willingness to bring innovation to the classroom and to accept creativity from their students. Most impressive of all though, was the fact that they 'got' Sarah. They understood her abilities and her deficiencies and were meaningfully working with her to address her weaknesses and to develop her strengths.

I believe that while all of the teachers are amazing, Sarah's English teacher is deserving of special mention. Both Sarah and I have noted significant improvement in Sarah's English abilities under her tutelage. Having met her, I know it's because of her excitement about the subject, her use of innovation and fun challenge in the classroom and her ability to comprehend the interests of the modern child and to incorporate this into her classroom.

I wish to thank you and the English teacher also for your assistance and support for Sarah's "Rebecca Farewell Portfolio". Sarah really enjoyed putting it together and it was very kind of you, the Principal, to support her in it and for Hyacinth to take such a keen interest and to assist with its compilation. Sarah was really excited to put it all together and it meant a lot to her to have all of your support and assistance.

Thank You for caring.

Regards
Sharon
